Camp Perry, O., Sept. 10.—Lieut. Joseph C. Soper, army aviator, of Bridgeport, Mich., is dead today, the victim of a plane crash yesterday afternoon when his pursuit plane plunged into the lake during maneuvers in connection with the National Rifle matches.

Soper's plane, in formation, was firing machine guns at targets on the lake. They were flying from a high altitude and the other five were rising when Soper's plane dashed downward, into about four feet of water, near the shore.

About 15,000 people, the majority of whom were spectators here for the rifle matches, witnessed the tragedy. A number of army marksmen ran in the water and two power boats also put out to the wrecked plane. Lieut. Soper was apparently killed instantly. Preparations to return the body to Selfridge Field were going forward today.

Columbiana County Fair Opens Tuesday

The largest cattle exhibit in the history of Columbiana county will be the feature of the fair's opening day at the Lisbon fair grounds tomorrow.

No special programs are scheduled for the first day. Arrangements of exhibits in their concessions by the county agricultural society is the only event billed.

Preparations will be made all day Tuesday for the opening of the regular programs of sport events, and other attractions, Wednesday and Thursday.

COLUMBIANA CO. VOTERS TO FACE SIX BOND ISSUES

Passage of Measures To Increase Taxes In Localities

SCHOOLS ARE NAMED IN MOST PROPOSALS

Wellsville Has Sewer To Consider; Rogers Votes On Electricity

Six bond issues proposed to be voted upon at the November election will cause a material increase in the tax rates of six districts in Columbiana county, it has been revealed by proposals that have been filed with the County Board of Elections. The six issues total $400,000.

The village of Rogers will vote on a bond issue of $85,000 for the purpose of supplying electricity to the village, the largest community in Middletown township. In this proposal, it has been designed to issue 15 bonds of the denomination of $566.66, the first bond being payable Oct. 1, 1930 and the last bond Oct. 1, 1944. This issue is to bear five per cent interest.

Rogers Value

It has also been disclosed that the village of Rogers at this time has a tax valuation of $182,280, and that the first payment on the bonds will require an additional tax levy of $5.44 on each thousand dollars of valuation. The average tax levy for this purpose over the 15 years will be $4.35 per thousand.

Summitville school district in Franklin township will vote on a bond issue of $9,000 for the erection of an addition to their school building. In this instance it is proposed to issue nine bonds of $1,000 bearing five per cent interest, the first bond being payable Oct. 1st, 1930 and the last bond Oct. 1st, 1938.

This school district has a tax value of $355,340. The first payment will require an additional levy of $1.08 per thousand, and the average (Continued on Page 4)

ATTENDED FIRST AND FORTY-NINTH REUNIONS

FIFTY YEARS AGO, these 14 descendants of John and Mary Mead attended the first annual reunion of the Mead family. Last year all of them were present at the 49th annual reunion, with the exception of Mrs. Clara Fogg, who now resides in California and was unable to make the trip back to Salem.

John and Mary Mead came from England in 1831 with seven children and located in Goshen township, Mahoning county. They were 38 days crossing the Atlantic. The 50th annual reunion held this summer brought together a large number of their descendants.

Bullfrog Lives In Vault for 15 Years

Liberty, Mo., Sept. 10.—Eastland, Texas' horned toad, that won so much fame for living without food, water, or air for so many years must now share its honorable fame with a bullfrog at Liberty, Mo.

The Liberty frog was found by Albert Carel, a carpenter, when he opened a bank vault which bank officials say hadn't been opened for 15 years. The vault was in the old building formerly occupied by the First National bank.

In one corner, Carel saw a white object hopping about. It was a frog. Officials of the bank said that the vault was virtually airtight and had not been opened for 15 years.

NEW BUILDING, LARGER STAFF AMONG REPORTS

2,000 Pupils Assemble In Classrooms For First Day Instructions

EXACT FIGURES ARE NOT YET AVAILABLE

Reilly School To Be Ready For Occupancy Within Week

With each school showing an increase in enrollment over last year, Salem public schools opened today with the largest enrollment in history.

Approximately 2,000 pupils met in six of the city schools at 9 this morning. Reilly school district students were to meet at McKinley building at 1 this afternoon as the new school is not completed. About 140 students were expected.

The total number of students attending high school this morning exceeded last year's maximum by approximately 30. Superintendent of Schools John S. Alan reported, about 620 pupils attending the first class.

The junior high school total, 443, is an increase of 32 over last year's greatest number in that institution.

No Exact Reports

No exact reports were received at the superintendent's office from the grade schools, but according to advance information, record enrollments are expected in each.

An increase of three teachers also was added to the teaching staff. A session of all teachers was held at the high school Saturday afternoon over which Supt. Alan presided, arranging plans for the year. Following the group session, principals of each school met with teachers.

No classes were held today, students and teachers merely assembling in classrooms for arrangement of the schedule for the school year and the fixing of plans.

Students of Reilly school will be able to attend regular classes in the new school within a week, according to information given by contractors now working at the school to Alan. Until the school is completed, the students will continue to attend McKinley in the afternoon.

POLITICAL WORLD WATCHES MAINE PRIMARY BALLOT

Vote In Northern State Seen As Barometer For Entire Nation

RELATIVE PARTY POLL INDICATIVE

Republicans Have Driven Hard Through State To Swing Tide

Portland, Me., Sept. 10.—The first barometer of the prospective presidential weather for 1928 will throw out its message to the nation today from the Maine elections.

Although no presidential electors are to be selected, the relative poll of the two parties in the contests for United States senator, governor, state officers and members of the legislature, will be a straw in the political winds. The old political adage, "as Maine goes in September, so goes the nation in November," is again to be tested.

Seeks Post

Senator Frederick Hale, chairman of the senate naval committee, and tenth ranking member of the senate in point of continuous service, is seeking his third term. His Democratic opponent is Herbert E. Holmes of Lewiston. A bitter primary fight between Hale and Governor Ralph O. Brewster for the senatorial nomination left some ugly scars on the Republican state organization, but Brewster's appearance to preside at a huge Republican rally here last week, following a hurried visit to the state by National Chairman Hubert Work, was hailed as a symbol of the buried hatchet. Senator Charles Curtis, Republican vice-presidential nominee, and Senator James E. Watson of Indiana, another wheelhorse of the G. O. P., have campaigned in the state for the Republican ticket within the last week. State Chairman Daniel E. Field today predicted a majority of 50,000 for the Republican gubernatorial nominee. Governor Brewster's majority in 1924 was but 36,000.

ILLNESS FATAL TO SALEM MAN

Ralph Moff Was Prominent In Business Circles;
Funeral Tuesday

Ralph W. Moff, 37, of McKinley avenue, died of a complication of diseases at 7:25 a. m. Sunday at the Massillon City hospital, following an illness of 12 years. Mr. Moff had been critically ill for several months. Kidney and heart complications caused his death.

Mr. Moff was born and reared in Salem. He graduated from the law college, Ohio State university, Columbus, and was admitted to the bar in 1916.

For a number of years he was prominent in the grain and flour business in Salem, Lisbon and Rogers.

Surviving are his widow, Mrs. Juliet Moff; his mother, Mrs. Katherine Moff and brother, Walter Moff, Salem.

The funeral service will be held at the home at 2:30 p. m. Tuesday in charge of Rev. C. A. Roth; interment in Grandview Burial park.

Twenty One Die In Italian Race Crash

Monza, Italy, Sept. 10.—The death list in the tragic accident which marred the automobile grand prix of Europe, was increased to 21 today when two of the injured died.

The accident occurred on the 18th lap when Materassi, the best known motor car racing driver in Italy, while passing the grand stand at a speed estimated at 120 miles an hour, struck the car driven by Foresti.

Banker Dies

Toledo, O., Sept. 10.—Funeral arrangements were being made today for Emory W. Thierwechter, 68, director of the Ohio Savings Bank & Trust Co., and one of Ohio's leading grain dealers, who died at his home in Oak Harbor yesterday.

Thierwechter was prominent in fraternal activities, 32nd degree Mason, member of the Elks and the Toledo club. A widow and two sons survive.

Democrats Admit Prohibition Issue

LEADERS HAVE MAINTAINED
DRY ISSUE NOT IMPORTANT

New York, Sept. 10.—For the first time since the presidential campaign began Democratic national headquarters today formally recognized prohibition as "the principal issue" in the solid south.

Heretofore Chairman John J. Raskob has steadfastly maintained that farm relief was the outstanding issue of the campaign throughout the south and west, but through the regular publicity channels today the national committee made public an endorsement of Gov. Alfred E. Smith by Brig. Gen. W. H. Coker, superintendent of the Virginia Military Institute, in which it was accepted that "prohibition is the principal issue of the campaign."

More Temperate

"I believe that the county would be more temperate with the liquor question handled by the state, as advocated by Gov. Smith," Coker wrote to Frank L. Polk, president of the Smith College League.

A second endorsement of Gov. Smith on the modification issue came from Cury Adlar, author and educator, of Philadelphia.

Adler added: "It is time that we bring our professions of religious liberty into actual practice."

The Democratic offensive in the solid south will be continued this week by Senator Joseph T. Robinson, the vice presidential nominee, with a speech tonight at Richmond, Va., and others on successive nights at Raleigh and Charlotte, N. C., Columbia, S. C., and Jacksonville, Fla.

American Legion To Hold County Meet

A large crowd of Legionnaires are expected in Salem tonight to attend a county meeting at the Legion home, McKinley ave., at 8 o'clock.

It also is regular meeting night for Charles H. Carey post, No. 56.

Legionnaires from East Palestine, Columbiana, Leetonia, Lisbon, East Liverpool and Wellsville, will attend. The last county meeting was held in Lisbon in August.

CLEVELAND AND VICINITY FEELS EARTH TREMBLE

Geologists Unable To See
Cause of Quakes;
No Damage

Cleveland, Sept. 10.—Geological authorities today were still seeking the explanation of three distinct earth tremors felt here and at other points along the Lake Erie shore late yesterday.

Shifting of salt formations, which under this district, causes occasional disturbances, according to father F. L. Odenbach, of John Carroll university. No quakes of any sort were recorded on the seismograph at the university yesterday, however.

Yesterday's tremors were especially marked in the northeast section of the city where floors shook perceptibly and windows rattled. About 100 families trooped into the streets, but the crowd was more curious than frightened. Lower windows of the new terminal tower building were also shaken, observers said. There was no damage.

Another explanation advanced was the exploding of aerial bombs at Camp Perry, in connection with the National Rifle matches there. The shock of these blasts was said to have been felt as far away as Port Clinton and other lake points.

Four Injured When Trains Are Wrecked

Indianapolis, Sept. 10.—Eight passengers on an inbound Big Four passenger train were injured when it crashed into a freight train.

E. C. Haldeman, of Leicestershire, O., engineer of the train, said that red lights were not displayed on the rear of the freight cars.

The injured included:

J. A. Jones of Cleveland, fractured right arm.

Ray Neff of Buffalo, N. Y., eye and nose injured.

B. R. Saxatze, Mechanicsburg, O., wrenched back.

The passenger train was bound for St. Louis from Cleveland.

North Georgetown Centennial Attracts Throng Of 2,000

Lake Placidia Scene of Big Gathering In Honor
Of 100th Anniversary of Founding
Of Columbiana Village

The village of North Georgetown, seven miles southwest of Salem, was the center of the most impressive gathering in its history, Sunday when more than 2,000 persons gathered to celebrate the 100th anniversary of the founding of the village.

Homes and business establishments were decorated with American flags for the occasion when old residents gathered with families, friends and former teachers for the first reunion ever held.

It was exactly 100 years ago Aug. 4 when John Stiger, his wife Catherine, and Mr. and Mrs. John Whiteleather deeded plots of land, situated on what is now known as Main st., to Georgetown, as it was then called, for its founding.

The assembly gathered at Lake Placidia, an amusement center a few miles from the village for the official celebration of the day. No formal program had been arranged, the entire affair being impromptu, speakers participating voluntarily, offering reminiscences of the older history of their home village.

In Charge of Program

Mrs. Rena Whiteleather, chairman of the centennial celebration committee was in charge of the program. Mrs. Whiteleather is postmistress of the village postoffice and descendant of one of its oldest families. Her brother, Wilson V. Myers, of Canton, and Mrs. Claudie E. Mountz, of near-North Georgetown were other members of the committee.

A musical program was presented by a group of musicians of North Georgetown, organized by Myers, who is director of music in Knox township rural schools. Myers taught and attended school in the century-old village several years ago.

The program opened with the introduction of Prof. A. Y. Taylor, of Homeworth by George Floyd, of Alliance, who was appointed master of ceremonies. Prof. Taylor and Mrs. Taylor, each 83 years of age,

AIR DERBYISTS NEARING END OF LONG JOURNEY

Clouds Delay Start Of Race; Big Planes Due
In San Diego

San Diego, Cal., Sept. 10.—Leading the vanguard of the New York to Los Angeles Class "A" air derby, Earl Rowland of Wichita, Kan., landed his Cessna monoplane, a Rockwell field here at 8:35 a. m. (Pacific Coast time) today on the next to last leg of the trans-continental race.

Oklahoma City, Okla., Sept. 10.—Cloudy weather and low visibility delayed start of the Class C and B flyers in the national air derby here this morning.

At 7:25 a. m. clouds began clearing up, however, and E. E. Balloch, Chicago, in a Laird, leading the Class B group, zoomed away for Fort Worth, Texas, first control station of the day.

Balloch was followed at one minute intervals by J. P. Woods, Waukegan, Wis., in a Waco; John Livingston, Mcminnouth, Waco; Charles W. Meyers, Troy, Ohio; Waco; T. A. Wells, Wichita, Kan., Travelaire and the other flyers in the order they arrived.

Police Pension Fund Boosted by Donation

Dayton, Sept. 10.—The Dayton police pension fund today was enriched by a check for $500, a gift of the Dayton Savings and Trust bank in appreciation of the efforts of Patrolman Edward Boehmer in frustrating a daring daylight hold-up of the North Dayton branch of the institution.

Boehmer shot and killed Theodore Trimble, 32, of Drexel, Dayton suburb, last Friday, when the youth cornered in the cashier's office, opened fire on him.

Funeral services for Trimble were to be held here today.

Governor Smith's Western Tour Carefully Layed Out By Democratic Chieftains

Large Retinue Will Trail
Nominee Over Area
To Be Covered

BY GEORGE E. HOLMES

Albany, N. Y., Sept. 10.—Gov. Al Smith's forthcoming western tour is not going to be any hurried session of one-night stands with the candidate dashing from his special train to the speaking platform and then hurrying on to the next stop.

The complete itinerary, made public today, disclosed that the Democratic schedule-makers have so skillfully arranged Governor Smith's trip that he will have ample opportunity to meet and confer with party leaders in all of the nine states in which he will make public appearances. It is so designed to afford the governor a chance to "sell" the personality for which he is famous.

Governor Smith's schedule calls for six major speeches—at Omaha, Oklahoma City, Denver, Helena, Minneapolis and Milwaukee. In each of these cities, the governor will spend the night. And in all of them save Helena he will spend the entire day preceding his speech at night. He will arrive early one morning and depart the next morning. Thus, county and district leaders, farmers and those from the smaller cities will be afforded an opportunity to meet the famous "Al" of whom they have read so much and seen so little.

Short Visits

In addition to the six states in which he will deliver major addresses, Governor Smith will also make shorter visits in three others—Kansas, Wyoming and North Dakota. After leaving Oklahoma City on September 21, his special train will be routed through southwestern Kansas, with stops at Newton and Dodge City. Enroute from Denver to Helena, on September 23, the train will stop for an hour at Cheyenne, and between Montana and Minnesota, where he speaks on September 27, the governor will make two stops in North Dakota, at Bismark and Fargo.

At none of these stops is the governor scheduled to speak. But public receptions will be held in each instance, and those who know "Al's" weakness for crowds, are betting there will be some remarks from the candidate, however much he is determined to do no open air speaking and to conserve his voice for the strenuous days ahead in the east.

Smith Pleased

Gov. Smith is personally well pleased with the itinerary. It has been carefully thought out and so designed as to have him appear in all of the northerly states west of the Mississippi, with few exceptions, where the Democrats are conceded a fair chance in November. The states in which he will appear have a total electoral vote of 81.

"Give us half that many north of Texas and west of the Mississippi, and Al's elected," said one of his advisors today.

The train upon which the governor will leave Albany next Sunday is to be the most pretentious, from the standpoint of equipment and personnel, that ever went west on a political trip.

Large Train

It will consist of 11 coaches back of the engine, Gov. Smith and his immediate party will occupy the William Butcher, 45, of 423 West Youngstown, died at the Central Clinic hospital at 8 p. m. Saturday from burns and injuries sustained when he slipped and fell from a live circuit while working at Penn-Ohio Power and Light company sub-station here, Friday.

Butcher was badly burned when clothes were ignited from him. Two men working with him, Enoch, 30, of 409 West Dewey and Glenn Veassie, 1969 Wakefield, both of Youngstown, were also injured.

Butcher is in a serious condition at Youngstown hospital from injuries sustained when Butcher fell from a super-structure, and Veassie suffered a scalp wound and a sprained ankle when he was hit by his fellow workers' plane.

LIVERPOOL MAN ENTERS IN RACE

Frank Dickey Seeks Post
County Commissioner
As Independent

Frank Dickey, of East Liverpool, filed his petition with the election board as an independent candidate for county commissioner at the election on Tuesday, Nov. 6.

Dickey who served two terms as commissioner is the fifth aspirant for the county office. The other candidates are J. C. Kelly, East Liverpool, and Frank Bye, Negley, Rogers, seeking re-election, and Ed Berg, Leetonia, and J. Mesnard, Paducah, Lisbon, Democrats.

Dickey was engaged in the transportation business and later in the real estate business in East Liverpool.

One of the directors of the Columbiana County Agricultural association, which conducts the county fair, in politics he has been a Republican.

W. B. Bough, West Point, has entered the race for probate judge, and will oppose Probate Judge Lodge Riddle, Lisbon, who has been three other candidates for Republican nomination.

Bough, former mayor of East Liverpool, has been residing on a farm in Lisbon township for 25 years.

COMPULSORY AUTO INSURANCE

Massachusetts is experimenting with compulsory insurance for motorists. Automobile clubs everywhere—those who drive automobiles and pedestrians as well—are watching the experiment.

In Massachusetts possession of a protective policy has been made a condition precedent to issuance of a license to operate a car. The theory upon which this course was outlined is that the innocent party to an accident is entitled to a recompense which a great many motorists cannot guarantee out of their own resources. The plan is well-grounded so far as good intentions are concerned, but there has been not a little dispute as to whether it will finally work out in actual practice.

The Boston Transcript, for instance, notes that in some parts of Massachusetts, a loss ratio of $1.75 is shown for every dollar of premiums paid in. That, of course, does not hold true in all districts, with a fair profit to the risk firms reported in many regions.

One is at a loss to find explanation of the reason why residents of a certain township should suffer nervous shock every time a fender is bent, while in others only relatively serious accidents are cited as the basis for claims. One finds no explanation for such a condition, yet the fact appears to be there anyway.

And so, what are they going to do about it? That is the largest question to be answered.

Manifestly insurance companies cannot go on permanently operating at a loss. And it seems unfair to weight the people of a region noted for meticulous driving with the burdens of the reckless and (sometimes) the malingering. The underwriters have come forward with the suggestion that there be a sliding scale of rates based on geographical data. Although, as already pointed out, in commenting on a survey of motor vehicle accidents in Connecticut, the question of terrain does not appear to enter prominently into such mishaps, the underwriter's plan should serve to stimulate local organizations to support whatever remedial measures may be indicated, although a protest from careful drivers is certain to be registered.

Discussion of compulsory insurance for motor vehicle drivers has been under way in Ohio for some time. It is virtually certain that the general assembly this winter, as discussed in these columns some time ago, will get a bill concerning this sort of insurance. For this reason, if for no other, Ohio motorists are vitally concerned with the Massachusetts experiment.

There is no question but that lack of a requirement of some form of insurance leaves the innocent victim without recourse against the reckless driver whose only asset may be a heavily mortgaged car. Then, too, to limit ownership to those able to liquidate a judgment for damages would obviously be unfair to a great many careful drivers who find the automobile both a great utility and a large source of pleasure.

There are those who contend that compulsory insurance tends to make irresponsible drivers more irresponsible. And besides, there is the complexity of rates adding to the complexity of the whole situation. Plainly, Massachusetts is faced with a big problem, the solution of which will probably be of great value to the rest of the country.

What Others Say

THE MUSIC OF NIGHT

The music of the night grows sweet in September. With the fading light of day swells an orchestration that stirs the soul to rapt attention. The moon that lights the hunter's path looks down upon a world whose physical features have grown soft and subtly enchanting. There are intermingled lights and shades—the light of the moon's caress in the open and the ebon of the dark where trees and shrubbery stand.

But it is the music born of the twilight hour which thrills one with a sweetness exquisite—the beetle's drone, the phantom rustle of moths wings, the strident rasp of Katy's limbs, the sawing of the tuneful cicada—but above all the throbbing of the crickets' violins and the hal-lelujah chorus of the tiny tree frogs, nestled, somewhere, invisible, but fluting endlessly melodies to the sailing moon, to the shadow-draped world.

The grasses are vibrant with this minstrelsy, and the trees; it sings from near and far; it tells old tales of mystery and joy; it swells, rises and falls; it throbs of the night and its dreams; comes, now and then, the sleepy chirp of a drowsing bird, the beating of home-returning feet. There are high notes and low notes.

The shadows pulse with melody—thin, elusive chords—come falling softly, touching the moonbeams to ecstasy. There is a vague necromancy about it all. We long to see the invisible players on nature's harps—we love them. We know that they are God's heralds, who sing the bliss of nature. We know that singer and song are evanescent and yet we know that they never shall die through all the sweep of bright aeons still to come.

We bless the night and its music, for we know that they touch our souls gently to nobler dreaming, to thoughts of better and kinder living. We salute the moon and the stars in the broad tent of the firmament and thank the Author of all things for the boon of life and life's appreciation of the ineffable things which may come to it.—Cincinnati Enquirer.

The Stars Say—

By GENEVIEVE KEMBLE
For Tuesday, Sept. 11.

THE general lunar and mutual configurations for this day point to the returns for faithful diligence and responsibility in labor, the rewards being of a substantial and enduring nature. The effect may be reaped in honors, preferment or increase of salary in employment or with stimulated business enterprise. It is possible there may be some change or restlessness of slight degree and there may be an unconventional personal adventure.

Those whose birthday it is may anticipate a year of reward for diligence and application, as well as responsibility, especially in employment. The energy and spirit of initiative will be highly stimulated to further action, despite a note of restlessness or desire for change. Unconventional personal contacts are probable. A child born on this day may have much enterprise and ingenuity as well as practical qualities of industry and fidelity to bring it success in life.

Good Health Follows
Common Sense PolicyBy Royal S. Copeland, M. D.
United States Senator from New York, Former Commissioner of Health, New York City

A few weeks ago a prominent college president talked with me about his heart. There are plenty of students who would say no college president could possibly have a heart, but I am sure this one has a kind heart and, for that matter, most of them have.

This particular college official complained about palpitation and other disagreeable heart symptoms. All of his ailments, if my conclusion is correct, are purely functional. That is, there is no real disease of this vital organ, but it is tired and disturbed by overwork, worry and late hours devoted for college development.

When will men learn that common sense must prevail if health is to be unimpaired? I know scores of men and women, too, who are carrying unnecessary, or, at least, impossible burdens. No wonder their hearts and nervous systems rebel.

I promised this friend of mine to prepare a series of articles devoted to the heart and its diseases. This will be the first of five such articles.

The fear of "heart disease" is almost universal. It is not at all uncommon to see a man feeling his pulse and counting its beats. This is a foolish habit. It is founded on worry and the practice adds fuel to the worry.

Do you know what a hypochondriac is? In these days of crossword puzzles there are no unfamiliar words. Everybody is studying the dictionary, and, in common with all the arts and sciences, medicine has become an open book.

For those who have not discovered the meaning of "hypochondriac" I will explain. He is a man who worries over himself, who imagines he has every disease and is all the time in a fever of fear that he is going to have some serious ailment. He imagines that death armed with a club is waiting just around the corner.

One of the sure signs of hypochondriasis is to go about feeling your own pulse. This is not quite as bad as rushing after the clinical thermometer, to take the temperature two or three times a day. But it is a bad thing to do. Indeed it is a silly thing to do.

It isn't a good idea to be too conscious of your body. It makes you worry and fret. If the pulse should happen to be a little bit rapid, to attempt to count it will cause it to become even more rapid, because the emotion of fear stimulates the heart. Then you imagine vain things and get a headache. Next the appetite is lost and pretty soon you may actually frighten yourself into a fever.

The pulse rate of a man is about 70 per minute and of a woman 75 or 80. Within reasonable limits there is no particular significance in the rate. From 80 to 85 or 90 means little except to an expert.

A very slow pulse may be the natural and normal rate. Another person may have a very rapid pulse which may be the usual and proper rate. Ordinarily a rate of 90 or 100 per minute indicates slight fever, but, as you see, it may be the "normal" rate for an occasional individual.

The regularity of the pulse, its fullness or weakness, its softness or hardness—all these factors are of interest to the doctor. They mean a good deal to him, but very little to the untrained person. "Skipping a beat" or other type of irregularity is of little consequence without other accompanying conditions which only the doctor can discover.

Leave your pulse alone and stop worrying over things you do not understand.

THE THEATER BYRD'S SHIP OR AMUSEMENT

Stocked Library of ms Taken Along With Projector

York, Sept. 10.—When Commander E. Byrd and his crew arrive in the Antarctic on their contemplated journey to the South Pole, they will take with them a travelling motion picture theater.

As a substitute of the comfort and amusement of the theater, Commander Byrd has decided to transport a motion picture projector and a well stocked library of films for their entertainment.

Selection of Films
Several weeks the selection of films which are to be taken has been made and it was deemed advisable by Commander Byrd to choose films which would keep with the spirit of the expedition as possible. It was also decided to develop new films for the expedition.

A large number of films selected for the expedition are of historical interest in both the Arctic and Antarctic as well as other unexplored regions.

SCOW ORDERS HOME CLEANUP

Sept. 10.—The local non-sanitary, lecherous Moscovites are in amazement at the latest order of the city which has ordered their filthy capital to be cleaned up. The city housing department, which in accordance with the nationalization edict owns the property, at the behest of several city officers who recently returned from abroad, has ordered

The floors of all human living quarters are to be scrubbed with water at least once a week.

No animals other than dogs and cats are to be allowed in the streets.

Each window in each dwelling is to have a fortiesque which is to be admitted air.

Washing shall reign from 11
at night until 7 in the morning.

No cooking shall be done in any bedrooms.

Rugs, quilts and dustcloths are to be shaken out on balconies. Nor is rubbish to be thrown out the rear windows.

Housewives Revolt
Uncomprehensible and unenforceable is the comment of the Moscovites. A sturdy housewife exerting herself to the extent of getting down on her hands and knees to scrub a floor?

Never! proletarian woman has been spared. Anyway, floors are scrubbed with a rag, and not scrubbed.

Never, when the vast majority of families live in one-room dwellings. Shall the cooking be done?
Usually is no stove, but on a table in one corner of the room stands a gasoline pres-tore called a "primus." Most cooking is done on the primus which holds one dish at a time.

than any other concessionaire or firm.

An Ideal Family
The primus holds the family together in Russia, despite all propaganda to the effect that Communism is a wreck of the home. In the press recently printed picture of a family, his wife and children as an "ideal" Communist worker's family. In fact he told the story of the family who doesn't drink, smoke or beat up his wife, leaf on the radio or stay out late at night. His wife is said to be all Russia as F. D. Roosevelt. He was strong and muscular of iron. He devoted all spare time to physical culture and music. His wife, his son, his daughter and his two daughters were all gymnasts. They dined accordions together and the old peasant dances. But he also an orator of note in the mill. He writes sonnets and so the story ends with this:

"The atmosphere of this family
was healthy and delightful.
Life to culture along the road
to a healthy existence!"

ber of Americans visiting Berlin this year would exceed last year's by 20 per cent were too modest in their estimates.

Complete figures for July show an increase over July, 1927, of 10 per cent. More than 27 per cent of all foreign visitors in the city, or 7,934, came from the United States and the June record was 6,224.

In the rear came the Danes,
1,220 representatives.

spectators of the national air races

new thrills as the airplanes in the Naval Lieut. G. E. Hasselman was the first casualty of the races.

While participating in the 50-mile race for scout planes his ship crashed as it rounded a pylon at 150 miles an hour. He was jammed so tightly in the cockpit of his machine that rescuers had to hack through the metal framework to extricate him.
He suffered serious lacerations about the head. Physicians said, however, that the full extent of his injuries
had not been determined.

The first race of the meet—the by Lieut. Decker. He covered the 50 miles in 23 minutes, 22 seconds.

MUDSLINGING IS TABOO IN CAMP OF REPUBLICANS

Personal Attacks Will Not Be Countenanced By Party Leaders

Washington, Sept. 10.—"No mud-slinging."

This order went forth from Republican national headquarters today to the army of party leaders seeking to place Herbert Hoover in the White House. It followed a public denunciation by Herbert Work, Republican national chairman, of "whispering campaigns" and it marked a very definite effort by Republican leaders to halt under-cover attacks on both Hoover and Gov. Alfred E. Smith, his Democratic rival.

The move had the approval of the Republican nominee, who deprecates all types of scurrilous attacks on candidates for public office. Hoover looks on "mud-slinging" as beneath the dignity of a presidential campaign and he feels that battle should be won or lost on party issues. He doesn't even favor attacks on Democratic issues or the record of the Democratic party. He has told his advisers he prefers that his campaign be made an affirmative one, confined to extolling Republican issues and praising the Republican record.

Hoover made it clear at the outset of his campaign that he would not countenance Republican attacks on Gov. Smith. He has done his best to stop them, whenever they were called to his attention. The Work statement was issued after the national chairman conferred with the nominee, and undoubtedly was prompted by Hoover.

During the pre-convention campaign, it was learned, Hoover was deeply moved by attacks on his Americanism. He did not mind criticism of his record as public administrator nor attacks on his Republicanism. When some of his foes referred to his Americanism in slighting terms, he felt a personal injury. He told one friend, on one occasion, that such attacks had no place in American politics.

In issuing his statement, Work revealed that anonymous pamphlets attacking Hoover have been placed in circulation. The national chairman denounced them as "scurrilous and false."

BOND ISSUE

levy for this purpose during the nine years will be $3.52 per thousand.

Knox township school district will vote on a bond issue of $100,000 for the purpose of erecting new school buildings. This taxing district proposes to issue 48 bonds varying in amounts from $2,000 to $3,000 payable semi-annually with interest not to exceed six per cent. This first bond will be payable March 1, 1930 and the last bond will be payable Sept. 1, 1953.

School District

This school district has a tax valuation of $3,589,610, and the additional tax rate for the first year will be $2.77 per thousand. The average levy during the 24 years will be $2.12 per thousand.

New Waterford school district will vote on a $65,000 bond issue for the erection of a new school building. The board of education in this district proposes to issue 48 bonds payable semi-annually, the first two bonds being for $1,450 each and the remaining bonds will be for $1,350 each. Interest on this issue is not to exceed six per cent.

The New Waterford school district has a tax valuation of $1,766,710, as estimated, and the additional levy for the first year providing the issue is approved will be $3.82 per thousand. The average for the 24 years will be $2.71 per thousand.

The city of Wellsview will vote on a bond issue of $18,000, for 17th st. sewer.

They propose to issue 18 bonds of $1,000 each. The first bond payable Oct. 1, 1930 and the last bond payable Oct. 1, 1947. Interest at five per cent.

The tax valuation of Wellsview is $9,757,780. The first year will require a levy of 20 per thousand of valuation, and the average levy will be .16 per thousand.

The city of East Liverpool will vote on two issues of bonds. One of $160,000 for the purpose of erecting a new city building, and one of $40,000 for the purpose of erecting a central fire station.

The first bonds payable Oct. 1, 1930 and the last bonds payable Oct. 1, 1954. Both issues payable semi-annually and continuing for a period of 25 years, interest not to exceed six per cent.

The valuation of the city of East Liverpool is $32,202,040. The first year will require an additional levy of .62 per thousand of valuation, and the average levy during the 25 years will be .45 per thousand.

Baptists Close In Appointing Pastors

Shelby, Sept. 10.—Appointment of pastors and district superintendents for the ensuing year featured the closing session of the 96th annual Sandusky conference of the United Methodist church held here it was adjourned today. The adoption of the standing committee's report was approved last night.

It was said that although none of the resolutions adopted by the conference directly named either of the presidential candidates for support by United Brethren church members, it was intimated, however that Hoover was the more favored.

POLICE SHOOT BOY IN CHASE

Bullet Fatal to 19-Year Driver; Suspects Are Being Quizzed

Toledo, O., Sept. 10.—In a wild chase of suspected automobile thieves, detectives early today shot and killed an unidentified 19-year-old youth and captured two boys, the oldest 14, who are being quizzed in connection with recent automobile thefts in this city.

When a complaint was received at police headquarters that three youths were changing license plates on a street here, Detectives Dengwicz and Tank sped to the scene in a police car.

As the police car rounded an intersection, the youths clambered into the machine and the chase was on. The detectives fired two shots in the air which failed to halt the fleeing car, as it careened around corners at breakneck speed.

The pursuing detectives kept up a volley of gunfire and were rewarded when the driver of the suspects' car lost control of his machine and crashed into a building at the end of a blind street here.

Crumpled in the driver's seat was the body of the youth. He was removed from the wreckage and rushed to a hospital where he was pronounced dead on arrival.

Violin Recital Is Scheduled Tonight

The third of a series of recitals to be given by pupils of John L. Hundertmark, teacher of violin, will be held at 8 p. m. Tuesday at the Presbyterian church chapel. It promises to be a greater success than previous ones.

The public is invited and there is no admission charge. Here is the program:

"Polish Dance," Raymond Weingart; "Lull," Rosina Schell; "Liebes Freud," Camille Hopperich; "Carnival De Venice," Jean Ohnhausen; "Narcissus," Cristina Faye Robinson; "Minuet Antique," John Tatu; "Marceau Diabolique," George Gottschling; quartet for four violins, first, John L. Hundertmark; second, Ralph Drinkhouse; third, Jean Ohnhausen; fourth, Theo. Zimmerman; "Concerto in A Minor," Elizabeth Snyder; "Minuet in G," Helmut Maroscher; Pizzicato from ballet "Sylvia," Dorothy Fulmer; "Humoresque," Alfred Daniels; "My Old Kentucky Home," Paul Strader; "Dawn of Love," Augustine Weber; "Hearts and Flowers," Alexander Fratila; "Ghost Dance," Ralph Drinkhouse; "Trembling Leaves," Theo. Zimmerman; "Serenade," Margaret Warner; "Tombstone Chimes," J. L. Hundertmark.

Mrs. J. W. Hundertmark will be the accompanist.

AIR DERBY

planes had left the field Robert W. Cantwell, Duncan, Okla., leading the Class C fliers took the air. He is piloting a Lockheed Vega. One minute later Edward T. Brooks, Denver, in a Fokker Universal, sped away followed by C. D. Collyer, New York, in a Fairchild.

Group C was cut from four to three planes yesterday when I. K. McWilliams, Worcester, Mass., was forced to withdraw after his Liberty-engineered Cox-Klein developed engine trouble. McWilliams arrived far behind the other Class C planes at the Kansas City control and decided to abandon the race when he reached Wichita.

Yuma, Ariz., Sept. 10.—The last lap of the Class A trans-continental air race from New York to Los Angeles began here today, when the vanguard of the planes in the derby took off headed for San Diego, the final stop before the end of the sweepstakes.

The take-off of the first two planes of the 21 air contestants at the field was timed at 8 a. m.

The planes left the runway two at a time.

The first pilot to lift his machine into the skies was Tex Rankin, Portland, Ore., flying a Waco biplane.

Within a few minutes after Rankin's take-off, all 21 race planes had left the ground.

Rankin led the pack into Yuma yesterday, at the end of the El Paso to Yuma lap of the race.

The next stop, San Diego, is to be the last before the final dash. The air racers are expected to remain in San Diego until 1:30 p. m. (Pacific Coast standard time), when they are scheduled to take off for Mines field, Los Angeles.

GRADE CRASHES CLAIM SIX LIVES

Wisconsin Scene of Two Fatal Mishaps; Two Injured

Milwaukee, Wis., Sept. 10.—Three women and three men are dead, another woman is dying, and an eighth victim is in a critical condition as a result of two grade crossing accidents late yesterday.

One crash occurred in Milwaukee and the second near Kenosha. The persons returned from a fishing trip in northern Wisconsin, were killed when their car sped in front of a Milwaukee interurban train. They were Mrs. Rose Schellin and Mr. and Mrs. Frank Schwand. Otto Schellin was taken to a hospital with serious cuts and bruises. Irving Schwand, driver of the car, escaped without injuries.

The Kenosha tragedy climaxed an evening of dancing enjoyed by two couples who were soon to have been married. Their automobile struck a Northwestern passenger train near the Kenosha city limits.

The dead are: Miss Florence Lesneau, Alfred Monroe, Peter Pingatore. The fourth member of the party, Miss Edith Schetter, is expected to die.

Ward Down, Milwaukee automobile racer, is in a serious condition as a result of a crash during a 50-mile race here Sunday afternoon.

FIVE CONVICTS DIE IN BREAK FOR FREEDOM

Eight Are Wounded During Battle Following Escapes

New Orleans, Sept. 10. — One of the greatest manhunts in history of this section was under way here today following the escape of 14 prisoners from the Angola prison farm.

Five convicts and one trusty were killed and four convicts, three guards and a boat tender were wounded during a battle that attended the escape. The convicts, who made the break, were armed. Cleveland J. Owens, of Huntville, Texas, who shot a New Orleans policeman and who twice before escaped from the Louisiana prison farm, led the plan to escape. Stephen Beck, of Detroit, convicted only recently of a bank robbery, also took part in the break. He and Owens were killed almost instantly. Stanley Proctor, of St. Paul, Minn., convicted of the murder of a New Orleans grocery man, also died under the fire of the guards. The other convicts killed were Jack Martin, serving a term for robbery, and Arthur Kinchen, convicted of assault.

The trusty killed was J. B. Bloom, who was serving a term for life.

COOLIDGE HEADS FOR WASHINGTON

President to Say Farewell To Brule Natives In Address Tonight

Superior, Wis., Sept. 10. — President Coolidge sings his swan song to northwestern Wisconsin today.

This evening, he is scheduled to appear on the steps of the Superior Central High school—this summer's site of the temporary executive offices—and tell the people of the surrounding neighborhood how glad he was to have spent three months fishing on the Brule river.

Immediately following this "farewell address," the president and his party will entrain for Washington. Wednesday morning will find him back at his desk in the national capital.

A crowd of sizable proportions is anticipated for the final appearance of President Coolidge in Superior. Mayor F. A. Baxter has issued a proclamation calling upon all the good people of Superior, Douglas county, Duluth and everywhere else to be present for the occasion.

Three Months On Isle
Lacking only a few days, Mr. and Mrs. Coolidge have spent three months at Cedar Island lodge, the spacious estate on the Brule. The president has had the most successful year of his White House incumbency insofar as vacation fishing is concerned. He has mastered the art of casting a dry fly and he has caught a grayling.

Mrs. Coolidge, who arrived literally on a sick bed, is returned completely to health and is going back with all the old vivacity that has endeared her to the American public for the past five years.

Back to Washington tonight with the president goes an extensive retinue. His special train will carry more than a dozen secret service operatives; all of the railroad officials of this particular section; the office staff that came with him, and which comprises a complete personnel of secretaries, stenographers, clerks and telegraphers. The household servant force that ordinarily holds forth in the White House and the usual reporters and photographers.

Train Takes Toll

Elyria, Sept. 10. — Funeral services were being arranged today for two railroad laborers who were killed instantly at Shawville, five miles east of here, when they walked in front of the New York Central Interstate Limited, yesterday afternoon. The dead are: Michael Kibane, of Cleveland, and John Tronin, believed to have lived in Massachusetts. The two were walking across the track to work cars. Observers said the train whistled.

Yanks Trim Athletics Twice To Regain American League Lead

Cardinals Face Cub Menace For Honors In National Grouper

New York, Sept. 10.—While the Yankees were sitting pretty today, following their leap over the battered Athletics to the top rung of the American League ladder, storm warnings fluttered in the camp of the St. Louis Cardinals, National League leaders.

The Cards have dropped four of their last seven starts. Another defeat by Pittsburgh yesterday left them only 2½ games ahead of the Chicago Cubs, who handed Cincinnati a 2 to 0 whitewashing, when Sten Blake let the Reds down with but two hits. The Cubs have captured five of their last seven games.

Perocious slugging by the Pirates gave them an 8 to 7 win over St. Louis yesterday, the Waner boys snagging seven hits between them. After the Cards apparently had put the game on ice with a five-run lead in the seventh, the Bucs retaliated by kayoing Grover Alexander and scoring five runs in the eighth.

Danny Vance is devoting the fall season to squelching John McGraw's ambitions. The Brooklyn giant star took a 3 to 2 decision from Larry Benton, New York ace, in a ten-man battle and registering his fifth victory. Flowers' hit in the eighth won the game after Pinch Hitter Hank Hendrick had clouded the homer with one on.

Philadelphia's 5 to 0 and 7 to 3 wins at the hands of the Yanks wiped the Mackmen's winning streak of five games. They had scored 41 of their last 50 starts. The A's still have Lefty Grove in reserve to shoot at the champions, but are a game and a half behind and must take both of the two remaining games of the series to remain first place.

Turning in their eighth win in the series, the White Sox regained fourth place by smothering Cleveland 10 to 1, while Washington was holding a double bill with the Red Sox. St. Louis outslugged Detroit, 6 to 1.

Worcester, Mass., Sept. 10.—The automaton of human beings will begin playing golf tomorrow in the annual Brae Burn championship of golf, which is being played on the Brae Burn golf course.

Three times in the past four championships has the title gone to Jones almost by acclamation and, on the fourth occasion, he only was beaten in the final by George von Elm's glittering golf.

von Elm will be one of at least a score of ranking stars who will compete in the issue with Jones this week. The issue, one of two American titles, is the British amateur title.

Chick Evans, Frank Delp, O. P. Willing, Harrison Johnson, Max Marston, Gene Homans, Philip Finlay, Don Stein, Roland McKenzie, Watts Gunn, Francis Met and the members of England's Walker Cup team are among many others who will be in the field swinging from their arch supporters. Great names; great golf; at least sometimes.

However, there is only one man in the field who is as consistently great as Jones. His name is Jones and his competitive record since he shows three amateur championships, two national open championships, a tie for two others and four of British open titles.

Football Giant Now Looms As Ring Luminary

Alfreo T. N. T. Lassman, giant captain and bright individual star of New York University's football team. He is the athlete whom many experts believe will be Gene Tonney's successor as the next heavyweight champion of the world. Inset, Tunney and Billy Gibson, who piloted him to the championship.

All Star Team To Play In Benefit

The City All Stars, "mush" ball team picked from seven teams of the city playground league, and the Mullins Manufacturing Corp. outfit will play a benefit game at Centennial park field at 5:30 p. m. Friday.

Tickets for the game will be placed on sale today. Joe Kelley, announced today, the entire proceeds of the game to go to help defray expenses of players injured while playing in the league during the season.

A fast game is expected, both teams being made up of principal stars in the league. Pitching will go far in deciding the battle, either Judy Myers, pitcher-manager of the Masons, first half champs, Harry Vincent, of the Salem China, or Fireman Tom Hagan, of the City Hall, hurling for the All Stars, and Watkins or Amberg for the body makers.

Record Crowd Sees Yankees Victorious

New York, Sept. 10.—The double-header between the Yankees and Athletics at Yankee stadium yesterday was witnessed by 85,285 persons, a record baseball crowd, according to the official figures. A hundred thousand others were turned away. A few fans were waiting at the gates as early as Saturday afternoon and all the unreserved seats were filled hours before game time.

The paid admissions, numbering 81,622, brought in receipts of $155,000. This was a record for a regular game during the championship season, but fell far short of the mark for a world series game.

Kridler Victorious In City Semi-Finals

Chester Kridler defeated Lester Older in the semi-finals of the city tennis tournament at the Centennial park courts, Sunday afternoon, three sets out of five.

Scores of the sets were, 1-6, 6-3, 6-4, 2-6, and 6-3. Kridler holding only a slight edge over his opponent.

Finals will be played Tuesday night at the park. Kridler stacking up against Don Thompson.

Hunting Opens Soon

Have you obtained your hunting license?

Is the scatter gun ready for the fall campaign?

It is best to be prepared, for the official hunting season in the state of Ohio opens on September 16 when game laws permit shooting of ducks.

The Ohio laws coincide with federal migratory bird laws and open the season before much is to be done in the way of duck shooting in Ohio. There are at present a number of ducks which have raised broods in the state and will afford a few days of gunning at the start of the season. They will soon be cleaned out, however, and then will come a lull until the weather drives the migratory birds in southward flight.

Stay-at-homes of Ohio will not get a great deal in the way of duck shooting, as the major portion of the state is off of the lanes of travel for migratory fowl. Old timers tell us that in years past there was a very fair amount of hunting through the state, but add that drainage of marshes, lack of food and heavy shooting have played a great part in making waterfowl scarce.

Sandusky bay and nearby shores afforded great sport at one time. It is claimed that the lowering of the lake and the introduction of carp have done much toward spoiling shooting. Carp, it is claimed, have destroyed food to a great extent. Personal observation has led me to believe that this is true.

Most old marshes remaining have taken the status of artificial hunting grounds as receding waters of Lake Erie drained many and they had to be dyked and water pumped into them. These marshes are controlled by the men who payed diking costs and are maintaining pumping operations.

Despite these conditions, ducks are not a rarity in the state, some shooting being afforded. All lakes get their share as do the streams, marshes and backwaters.

Many hunters gun on Indian lake each season and one who is on to his job may come near the bag limit in a day's shooting. Marshes along the Killbuck river are good, as well as marshes in various other portions of the state.

WOODS and WATERS by HOMER BOW

The best proposition is to forget duck hunting for a while and plan on squirrel season, which is open for 15 days after October 1. The limit this year is four squirrels. The season will be the last until 1930.

After squirrel comes rabbit season, with its 10 days of incidental bird shooting. The only birds, in addition to migratory fowl, rails and shore birds, which are few, are pheasant and Hungarian partridge. Quail have been taboo for years and years and recent legislation took the ruffed grouse from the open list, a timely measure for most localities.

BROWN TO OPEN GRID CAMP WITH 9 LETTERMEN

Providence, R. I., Sept. 10.—With 18 members of the 1927 varsity squad available, half of them letter men, Brown University football candidates will report for the first practice on September 11. About 55 men are expected to report by Tuss McLaughry, head coach.

Brown hopes to start a clean slate in football this year, and to win back some of the prestige the Iron men earned two years ago when they defeated Yale, Harvard and Dartmouth and tied with Colgate and finished the season undefeated. Brown will not play Harvard this year, interrupting a long series of games between the two colleges in which Brown showed exceptionally well. The Brown Bears will play Yale and Dartmouth again. A new face this year will be Holy Cross. The early season game with Rhode Island will start things, and Colgate will be the Thanksgiving Day opponent. Other elevens to be met are Worcester Poly, Tufts, Dayton and New Hampshire. It is by far one of the easiest programs that Brown has had in recent years.

Among the men who will report from last year's team, are an entire set of backs, two tackles and two guards. They are Capt. Al Cornsweet, fullback; Jim and Bud Edwards, halfbacks; Ed Kovorkian and Louis Ferber, guards, and Harry Cornsweet and Nelson Munson, halfbacks.

Urban Shocker Dies In Denver

New York, Sept. 10.—The elation of the New York Yankees over their double victory from the Athletics was somewhat tempered today by news of the death of Urban Shocker, once their star pitcher. The chunky spitball pitcher passed away in Denver yesterday, a victim of pneumonia and heart trouble.

Shocker won 18 games for the Yanks last season. This spring he announced his retirement. The lure of the diamond brought him back, but failing health prevented him from playing.

Shocker formerly pitched for the St. Louis Browns. He was 36 years old.

New York — Love will find a way. Louise E. Balmat, of Massena, N. Y., went on the steamship, Santa Luisa, to marry Charles Breece of East Liberty, O., a mining engineer at Teopilla, Chile. Once aboard the lugger, she was informed that six months' residence in Chile was necessary before she could be married. She sent a radio message. Breece met her at Callao, Peru, and they were married by the captain of the steamship.

Wigan, Eng.—A taxi driver here was summoned for refusing to take a woman passenger who weighed more than 335 pounds. The case was dismissed.

Studio Theater Movement Planned For Salem People

Announcement has been made by Marion Cox, local theatrical producer and director, that plans for the Studio theater, a new Salem organization, have been completed, and that theatrical productions will be presented by this group in the near future.

The Studio theater is a personification of a current nation wide movement the purpose of which is to present to the public theatricals of quality.

The organization is composed of Salem talent which has had experience in dramatics and will present plays periodically.

Marion Cox is responsible for the organization of the Studio theater in Salem, and he will take charge of the managing and directing of the group in the productions that they will later present. Cox has had professional training and experience in both stage and cinema productions. While still in Salem High school he became personally interested in theatricals, acting in local show houses, working on technical staffs of home talent productions, and "trouping" in other cities of this locality.

Upon his graduation from Salem High he became a student of the Art theater at Carnegie institute. It was during his instruction at the institute that Cox first received recognition by producers. He designed the original settings for Sam Jones' famous New York production "Loose Ankles." His work on this and other productions attracted the attention of movie producers and in the fall of 1927 he was sent to Hollywood where he designed for Universal Pictures. After working as a designer, during which time he worked on the sets for "The Man Who Laughs," Universal's feature show for 1928, he was appointed assistant to the director in supervising the authenticity of the production.

In the late spring of 1928 Cox returned to Salem to visit his parents. It was during this visit that he recognized possibilities of an organization such as the studio theater. Several Salem organizations which have realized a need for better legitimate presentations in Salem approached Cox on the subject, and the result of their interest is the studio theater. Prominent citizens are now taking an interest in the project and are helping back the idea.

Maintenance of the organization will be philanthropic. Proceeds realized from productions to be presented will go to the advancement of the company in the way of new scenery, draperies, royalties, costumes, lighting effects, furniture and other necessities to the betterment, and to the increased dramatic value of the shows.

The studio theater is open to all who are interested in receiving practical training in acting, scene painting, stage lighting, and theater management. All interested parties are requested to write the Studio Theater, Main st. and an interview will be arranged.

"NO OTHER WOMAN"

"No Other Woman," at the State tonight is Lou Tellegen's first directorial venture under the Fox Films banner. Dolores Del Rio plays the stellar role, surrounded by an excellent cast including Don Alvarado, Ben Bard, Paulette Duval and Rosita Marstini.

Practically all of the scenes are laid in Biarritz, France, the famous watering place that was the favorite haunt of the Empress Josephine. A French race track also figures prominently in a pivotal scene in which many well-known film characters appear in the grand stand.

Dolores Del Rio is seen as a wealthy South American belle, Carmelito De Sano, sojourning in Biarritz with her reserved and dignified aunt, delmated by Rosita Marstini. She is loved by Maurice (Don Alvarado), who fears to tell his love lest the girl thinks it is her wealth that attracts him. His friend Albert, impersonated by Ben Bard, has no such scruples, however. Her money would be a great asset to him in his gambling activities. With this in mind he proceeds to undermine Maurice.

It is a powerful tale of primitive passions in fashionable society. Romance and comedy—intrigue and attack—that's "No Other Woman."

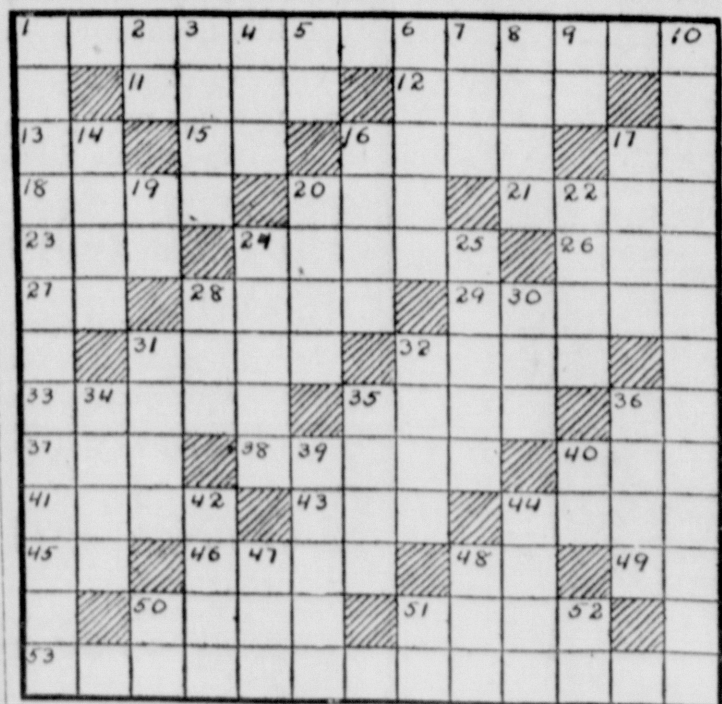

"TWO ARABIAN KNIGHTS"

"Two Arabian Knights," with William Boyd, Mary Astor and Louis Wolheim in a post-war comedy film, will be the feature at the Grand tonight.

Where the war ends, the story of "Two Arabian Knights" begins. In no sense derived from Omar Khayyam's tales, the title is explained by the fact that the American buck private and top sergeant are knighted by an Emir in Arabia for no good reason. The private is less concerned with a knighthood than with the Emir's daughter, Anis Bin Adham, who is really Mary Astor.

It is said that "Two Arabian Knights" employs divers avenues of laughter, ranging from the hysterical, arousing sequences of the doughboys' escape through electrified barb wire, surrounding a prison camp, to the spectacle of Louis Wolheim in his red flannels.

18,000 PHONES BUT ONLY FIVE SWITCHBOARDS

Moscow Will Get No Phones In 1928

London, Sept. 10.—The London police will soon be instructed to identify burglar suspects by the smell of champagne upon their breaths, if a new epidemic among the thieves spreads.

In the last few weeks, there have been repeated cases of robbers breaking into fashionable homes, and not content with stealing all readily movable value, they have invaded the wine-cellar, spreading desolation among the carefully stacked bottles of rare vintage wines.

Drink and Die
The drinking is all done first, and the valuables piled in a handy place, the police say, whereafter the robbers set themselves about making a gay time of the evening. Larders and pantries are ransacked for delicacies, which are eaten to the accompaniment of champagne, in many instances the prize possession of the house-owner.

Naturally, these "champagne suppers" take place only when the houses which are raided are completely unoccupied. There have been cases reported where robberies have been discovered by the empty bottles strewn around the house.

Drunk 50 Bottles
One robber had recently consumed fifty bottles of champagne at one sitting. The gang could not have consisted of more than five or six men, had they got through the streets safely or even managed to reach the street without collapsing completely, remains an unsolved mystery.

As a rule, the burglars are polite enough not to avail themselves of the master's bedroom during or after these champagne orgies, but there have been uncovered unmistakable signs of thieves having slept all night in drawing rooms or wine-cellar, obviously to recover from the effects of their bibulation.

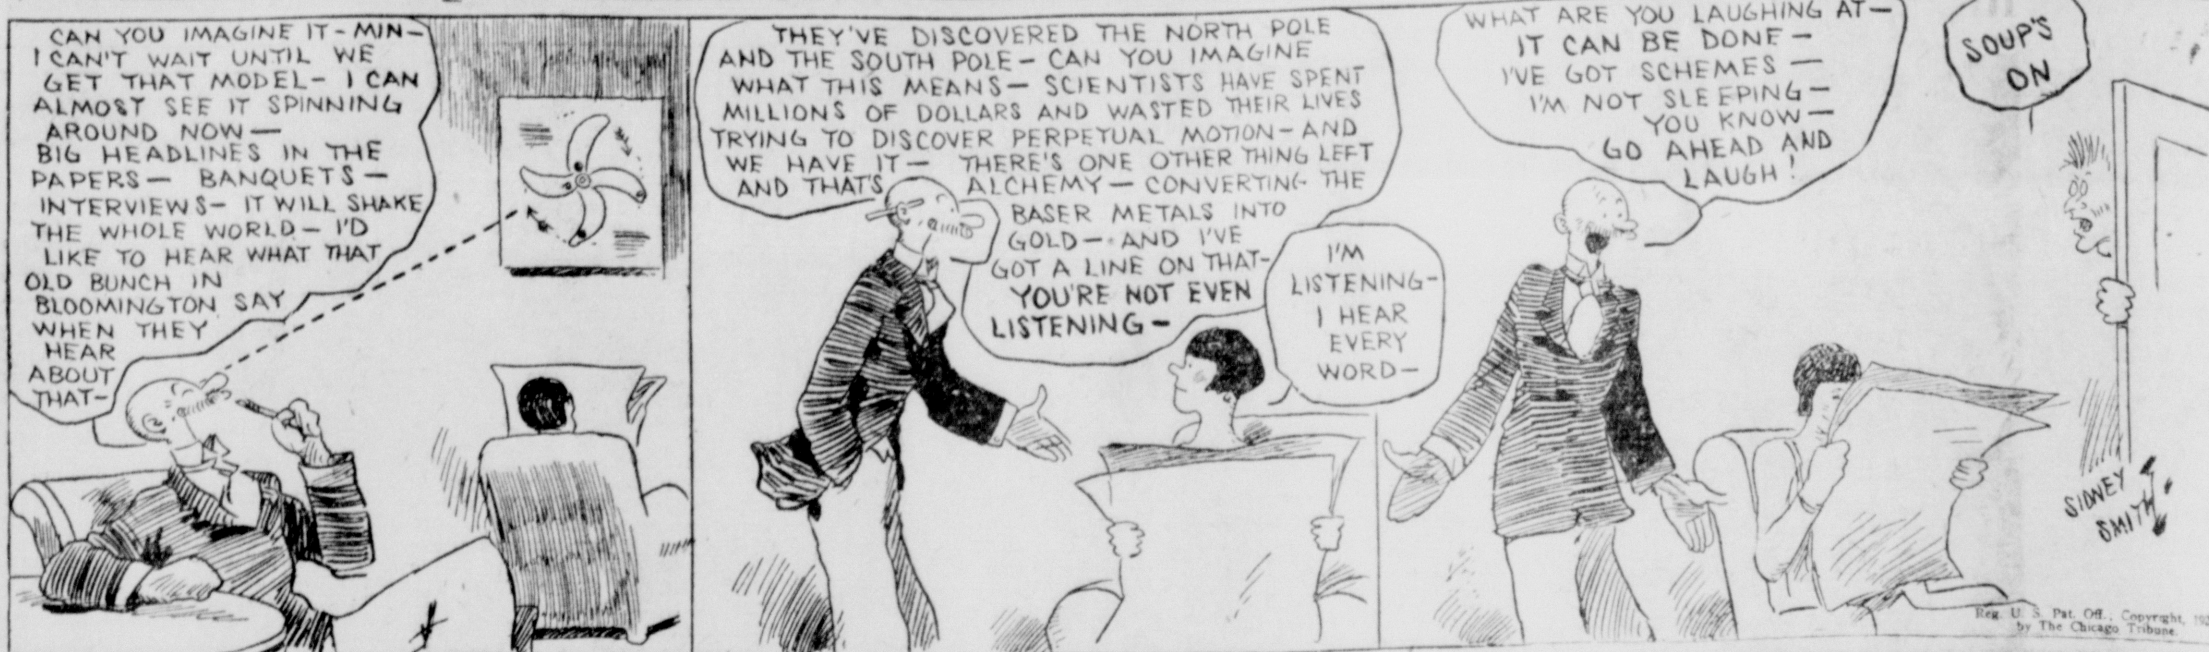

1,100 Architects Work on Memorial

Washington, Sept. 10.—Eleven hundred architects are expected to participate in the competition for a design for the Columbus Memorial lighthouse which will be erected in the Dominican Republic.

The program and rules of the contest which are now being distributed by the Pan-American union, declare the competition will be divided into two stages, the first of which will be open to all architects without distinction of nationality, and will continue from September 1 to April 1, 1929.

An international jury composed of three men will be selected as the judges. The ten designs possessing the greatest merit will be selected and the author of each design will each receive a bonus of $2,000 each.

The second competition will see the ten compete for the first honor, which will net the winner a $10,000 prize, $7,500 to the design which places second, $5,000 to the third, $2,000 to the fourth and $1,000 each to the other six competitors.

In addition, the competitors are requested to indicate a comprehensive development of the 2500 acre tract which will be set aside for the monument and adjacent park, providing for an official and residential center and for an airport measuring at least 2,000 by 3,000 feet with a runway about a mile long, indicating a mooring mast, hangars, repair shops, etc.

Tells Dyspeptics What To Eat

Strict diets are often unnecessary in stomach trouble. While some foods do produce excessive acidity and many stomachs do generate "too much acid" causing gas, sourness, bloating and after-eating pains, the trouble may be safely and quickly corrected by the use of a good alkaline. Bismarck Magnesia—powder or tablets—is ideal for this purpose. Just a little after meals neutralizes all the excess acid, prevents souring, breaks up gas and ends indigestion. Favorite foods no longer upset stomach and digestion is easy and painless. It will do all this for you or money back. Lease Drug Co. and druggists everywhere sell Bismarck Magnesia with this guarantee. Adv.

The Complete Typewriter Line

THE Remington Line is the one and only complete and universal typewriter line, including a machine for every need and for every conceivable condition of service.

Standard Typewriters, Noiseless Typewriters, Electric Typewriters, Tabulating Typewriters, Portable Typewriters, Vertical Adding Typewriters and Bookkeeping Machines of every kind and description are all included in this universal line. And every one of these many Remingtons represents the very last word in the field that it covers.

This completeness of the Remington Line—a new development in the industry—enables the typewriter and bookkeeping machine user to practice selective buying to a degree hitherto impossible. Whatever your needs may be, whether general or special, there is sure to be a machine in the Complete Remington Line which fits these needs—exactly.

In making the right selection, the Remington representative can render you most helpful assistance. His training is as complete as the line which he sells; he knows the machine which should be used under every given condition—and for each and every purpose. And this knowledge and training is freely at your service.

FISHING TODAY DIFFERENT THAN OLD BOSTON DAYS

Modernized Ideas Now Much Used In New England

Boston, Mass., Sept. 10.—The New England fishing industry today, as conducted by the modern unit in the business, is so unlike that of 15 or 20 years ago that there can be no comparison, according to E. H. Cooley, manager of the Massachusetts Fisheries association, an organization representing the producers and dealers of the Bay state recently formed for the purpose of cooperation, promoting use of improved methods and elimination of wasteful practices.

Two outstanding developments mark the change from the thing business of a few years ago to the modern industry of today. They are first the development of marketing of fillets by the package method, and the improvement of freezing methods.

Other considerations include the adoption of the motor or steam propelled fishing boat in the place of the schooner, and the trawler system instead of hand lines.

Capturing Bait
Still another factor in the change is the practice of catching and preserving bait, so the fishermen no longer have to spend valuable time at the start of the voyage cruising about in search of this necessity.

The idea of filleting fish and marketing the fillets on a large scale was conceived by a Massachusetts dealer in 1921. By this process the two meaty sides which are practically boneless are cut off, wrapped in parchment paper and shipped, thus enabling the housewife to buy fish ready for the frying pan just as is the steak she buys from the corner market. The fillets, in the packages are then placed in tin containers themselves shipped in wooden boxes surrounded with ice. In this way fresh fish are on the way to market a few hours after caught.

A very much wider distribution has been secured, and Boston dealers are shipping fillets to the Mississippi river and beyond.

In the field of artificial freezing, pronounced improvement has been developed. It is known, of course, that ice evaporates just as does water, and in a similar way, in frozen fishes, frozen juices evaporate.

Problem Solved
Research, however, produced a way out of this particular problem. Methods were developed for the "glazing" of fish by placing them under a spray of water which is immediately frozen. Any evaporation, therefore, is from the external coating and the internal juices are not lost.

Still another development in the line of freezing has been the production of machinery and methods whereby the rate of freezing has been increased. Investigation showed that the slower the freezing process, the larger the crystals formed and it was found the larger crystals broke the sacks in the connective tissue and allowed the juices to escape.

Under the modern system the fish is frozen at such a fast rate that extremely tiny crystals are formed the sacks are not broken, and the original fish juices are retained.

BOND ISSUES TO FACE PEOPLE

East Liverpool May Have
New Municipal Buildings

East Liverpool, Sept. 10.—Two proposed bond issues for $200,000 for a new municipal building, housing city officers, police department, municipal court and public auditorium, and a new central fire station, will go before the voters of East Liverpool at the Nov. 6, general election, as the result of resolutions approved by council.

Bonds amounting to $100,000 are asked for the proposed new city hall while $40,000 is sought for the new fire station. No part of the money will be expended for sites, as the proposed municipal building is to occupy the city lot, Sixth st., while the proposed new fire station is to be erected on the site of the present station.

Although only $100,000 is asked, the proposed city hall will cost at least $180,000. The attorney general has approved the use of waterworks funds for a new building to house the waterworks department. The improvement will be delayed until after the November election, and if the bond issue carries $20,000 will be transferred from the waterworks to the municipal hall building fund, according to Service-Safety Director Moore.

LEETONIA

OHIO BANKERS TO CONVEY IN EAST LIVERPOOL

Officials From 8 Counties
Will Discuss Affairs
At Meeting

East Liverpool, Sept. 10.—Bankers to whose institutions are entrusted most of the wealth of eight eastern Ohio counties, will gather at the East Liverpool Country club on September 21 for the annual meeting of group eight, Ohio Bankers association.

These men, coming from Wayne, Stark, Columbiana, Holmes, Tuscarawas, Carroll, Jefferson and Harrison counties, will take counsel among themselves and listen to the suggestions of others as to how they can conduct their business and employ their resources with the greatest of safety to their depositors and to the best advantage of their communities. Practically every phase of the banking business will be discussed by speakers who will have places on the program.

Arthur B. Taylor of Elyria, president of the Ohio Bankers association, will address the group on "Our Duty as Bankers." Mr. Taylor is expected to draw upon his more than thirty years of banking experience in discussing the various tendencies which are being met under present conditions.

Charles H. Mylander, of Columbiana, secretary of the Ohio Bankers association, then will discuss "Some Legislative Problems," probably paying particular attention to the taxation situation. Mr. Mylander will be followed by John A. Sheetz, cashier of the First National Bank of Willoughby, whose subject will be "Safe Deposit Practices."

The final number on the program will be a discussion of European conditions and their effect upon American banking and finance by Warren Hayden of the Hayden, Miller company of Cleveland. Mr. Hayden recently returned from an extended European trip. The bankers have been invited to bring their wives to the meeting by the officers of the Potters National Bank of East Liverpool who are acting as hosts.

BOYISH KING IS EXPERT SWIMMER

Constanza, on the Black Sea. Sept. 10.—King Michael, seven-year-old ruler of Rumania, has become an expert swimmer, and is trying to teach his cousin, Prince Philip of Greece, how to feel at home in the water.

Occasionally his majesty has to have his ears pulled by his English nurse because he insists on swimming when it is time for his afternoon nap.

Each morning between swims King Michael and his cousin build sand castles and stage miniature warfares with the handsome lead soldiers he took along with him from Bucharest. The youthful monarch insists on playing out his war games until all the soldiers are dead or wounded.

THE REGENT

VICTORIOUS

in Every Test and Fulfilling Every Promise the NEW Maytag observes Its First Anniversary

ONE year ago, I announced the New Maytag as our latest and greatest achievement. Noteworthy refinements and striking improvements, including a new method of soap and water removal, were incorporated in the new washer. It set standards of convenience and washing efficiency that had never been known before.

During the year that has passed, hundreds of thousands of NEW Maytags have been introduced into as many homes, and each time subject to the famous Maytag trial basis: "If it doesn't sell itself, don't keep it." Rigorous, exacting washday tests assailed the New Maytag, and it has emerged victorious to a degree exceeding my highest expectations.

A year ago, the New Maytag enjoyed a prestige inherited from Maytags of the past. Today the New Maytag enjoys a prestige in its own right, won by demonstrated performance. It has advanced still farther in its world leadership.
